

IT specialist (m/f/x) for application development

Location: Dresden

As an application developer at twentyZen GmbH in Dresden you will work together with us on innovative projects. We are looking for you as reinforcement for our current customer projects and exciting new applications.

For your successful cooperation in our software projects, the development of your own software components as well as the maintenance and operation of applications, you have the following experience and knowledge:

- object-oriented programming
- PHP, HTML5, JavaScript, CSS and MySQL
- Use of PHP frameworks (e.g. Laravel) and JavaScript frameworks (e.g. Vue.js)

We would be pleased if you are also familiar with other frameworks - or if you are familiar with them - and have perhaps already developed them for WordPress.

Our offer - your chance:

- Working responsibly in a growing software company
- Exciting projects in a young team
- Extensive potential for further development
- Flexible working hours and - by arrangement - use of the home office,
- Your workplace in the middle of Dresden - 3 minutes away from S-Bahn and tram
- Free drinks, tea and coffee, as well as regular team lunches

Our mission:

Web applications are our world: this is how we drive digital transformation in medium-sized businesses. We are committed to an open Internet with standardized interfaces. Are you in?

We look forward to receiving your detailed application including CV, certificates, salary expectations and earliest possible starting date by email to bewerbung@twentyzen.com or via <https://www.twentyzen.com/de/unternehmen/jobs/>.
